

NSS Rakhi Celebrations with Police (27th August 2026)

On 27 August 2026, the NSS Unit of Smt. M.M.P. Shah Women's College, Matunga celebrated Raksha Bandhan with heartfelt enthusiasm and respect.

As part of this initiative, NSS volunteers tied rakhis to more than 40 police personnel at Matunga and Sion Police Stations, expressing gratitude for their dedicated service and protection. The gesture symbolised the bond of trust and appreciation between citizens and the guardians of law and order.

In addition, rakhis were tied to the college security staff and canteen personnel, acknowledging their valuable contributions to the safety and well-being of the campus community.

